San Joaquin County Public Health Services is seeking a dynamic, experienced Public Health Nurse to join the Tuberculosis Control Program as a Supervising Public Health Nurse. This position is a first-line supervisor responsible for planning, scheduling, organizing and supervising nursing and support staff in the TB/Communicable Disease unit. The ideal candidate will have experience and/or knowledge of effective supervisory and training skills, experience in public health field work, and knowledge of tuberculosis disease transmission, control, and investigation in a community health program.

THE DEPARTMENT

San Joaquin County Public Health Services is located in Stockton, CA and is a division of the Health Care Services Department. To promote a healthy future for a culturally diverse population of nearly 700,000, Public Health Services offers innovative, quality health services to the residents of San Joaquin County. The staff of over 200 professionals serve members of the community with respect by acknowledging and supporting diversity, and have a strong tradition of community partnership and leadership in health promotion.

THE TB CONTROL UNIT

The Tuberculosis Control Unit offers case management services for suspected and diagnosed cases of tuberculosis, including contact identification, referral and monitoring. This unit also provides consultation for health care providers, hospital infection control practitioners and school nurses, and participates in outbreak control activities and community education.

“Public Health Services, in partnership with the community, promotes a healthy future for San Joaquin County.”

ARTS, CULTURE, AND RECREATION

The arts and culture provide a much-needed respite from everyday worries and the Haggin Museum, San Joaquin County Historical Museum, and Stockton Children’s Museum are popular spots.

The Stockton Symphony, San Joaquin County Ballet, and Stockton Civic Theater provide important experiences for children and adults. The multi-cultural community offers a diversity of views and opinions in its art and culture, providing a wealth of knowledge about past and present on canvas and stage.

Over 75 languages are spoken within the region and there is richness in the blending of cultures and ways that creates an air of celebration about individual customs, foods and cultures.

San Joaquin County government provides nine community parks for boating, camping, and picnicking, swimming and organized sports. Annual family events include the Asparagus Festival, attended by thousands of fun-seekers from the County and beyond.

Individual cities and communities provide a host of other opportunities, from Lodi Lake Park and Nature Area to the Woodbridge Ecological Reserve. The County-owned and operated Micke Grove Park offers a zoo, rides and a historical museum to delight both children and adults. The San Joaquin Delta is one of the area’s best kept secrets and offers some of the best boating in the state: more than 1,000 miles of waterways stretching from the Stockton Harbor to north of Sacramento and offering access to the San Francisco Bay.

EDUCATION

From preschool to higher education, the County has it covered with an abundant array of public or private opportunities to learn and grow. The University of the Pacific, California State University, Stanislaus-Stockton Center, Humphreys College and Law School, National University, and the San Joaquin Delta Community College offer a wide variety of choices for educational opportunities. The County’s 17 school districts provide families with a wide choice for children’s educational development.

AGRICULTURE

The county is one of the most agriculturally rich regions in California and is the number one producer, statewide, of asparagus. Twenty-four thousand acres of county farmland are dedicated to production of this crop. In recent years, the leading crop in the county has been wine grapes, and wineries and vineyards have sprung up from Stockton to Lodi.

HOUSING

Housing is plentiful in San Joaquin County and is affordable when compared to other nearby areas.

Housing ranges from new developments to historic homes found mostly in central Stockton and downtown Lodi.

San Joaquin County is a place where families can grow, learn, and experience the nature and beauty of the California landscape while benefiting from the unique opportunities - cultural, recreational, and educational - that the area provides.
